NEW YORK, July 25.

The cholera has somewhat abated. Only four cases were reported officially in the city yesterday and six in Brooklyn. There are several others unofficially reported, but there is no doubt the weather is regarding the progress of the disease. The cholera on the islands was no less severe. Three deaths have occurred and a large number of troops are ill with diarrhoea.

The mortality report for the week ending July 21st shows that there were 1,262 deaths, of which 565 were from scrofulous and foul air diseases. The total mortality for the months of April, May and June of the present year was 5,399.

Four gentlemen have been appointed by the Citizens' Executive Committee for the relief of the Portland sufferers, to visit their city and distribute the funds collected in this city. The Treasurer reports the amount of contributions received to be $10,749. The total amount due in the city is $134,104.50, of which $5,726 was collected in Catholic churches and donated by Catholic priests last Sunday.

Judge McCann, sitting in the Chambers of the Superior Court, took occasion yesterday when a liquor injunction was called up to give an opinion adverse to the constitutionality of the Excise law. There are now three Judges of this District who have thus decided.

The Latest News from the Conference Convention.

The following telegram was received yesterday:

FRANKLIN, July 25—5 P. M.
To the Titusville Herald:

Finney was nominated on the 136th ballot. When the result was announced a motion was made to make the nomination unanimous, which was adopted with only one negative vote. A delegate then stated that he voted for Finney unintentionally, and a motion to reconsider the nomination prevailed. Four more ballots were then taken, when the Convention adjourned till morning. Will probably get through on Thursday.

W. W. Bross.

The reconsideration of the vote which nominated Mr. Finney was under the circumstances extremely liberal and honorable to the convention. The deliberation which characterizes their proceedings is an omen of union and harmony which we are glad to observe.

It is unquestionable that the nomination of Hon. D. A. Finney would be hailed with the highest satisfaction in this community and that no candidate who could be named would command so enthusiastic a support, or so large a popular vote.

TITUSVILLE VS. ERIC ON BASE BALL MATTERS.—Yesterday the First Nine of our Union Base Ball Club of this city, according to pre-arrangement, met the Excelsior Base Ball Club of Erie, for a friendly match game of base ball. The game was called at 12:30 p. m., soon after our boys arrived from Jamestown. We have received no telegram except the brief announcement of the result, which shows that our Union Club were beaten by score of 18 to 31, losing the game by 13 runs. In this game as well as the one at Jamestown the day before, the efficiency of the Nine was greatly impaired by the absence of Mr. Cox, the pitcher. Mr. Little, the 3d baseman, was "put out of play" early in the game by an injury to his hand. His place was well supplied by Mr. B. N. Hurd, each day. The only home run made in the Erie game was by Mr. C. M. Coburn, of the Union.

After the close of the Union and Excelsior match, the Second Nine of the Union began their game with the First Nine of the Erie Base Ball Club on another ground. We are sorry to say that in this match our Titusville boys were unsuccessful, the Erie Club winning by ten runs. A complete analysis of the score of all three games will be published as soon as we get the documents. We trust that when the return matches are played the tables will be turned.

A MAN RUN OVER BY A LOCOMOTIVE AND HIS BODY CARRIED TWELVE MILES ON THE COW-CATCHER.—On Monday night, about midnight, says the Pittsburgh Commercial, when the engine which had brought the day express on the Pennsylvania Railroad to this city, was passed in the "Round House," at the outer depot, in the Ninth Ward, the body of a man, shockingly mangled, was found on the cow-catcher. The engineer of the train was immediately sent for, but he was unable to give any explanation of the matter. The body was identified as the remains of Thomas Lynch, who resided near Turt's Creek. Lynch had been noticed during the evening at Turt's Creek, in an intoxicated condition, and as his hat was found at a short distance from the body he became bewildered, and being unable to get out of the way of the locomotive, was run over and instantly killed. The train passed Turt's Creek about half past ten in the evening, and the body was not discovered until after eleven. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict of "accidental death."

EXPLOSION BY NITRO-CHLORIDE.—H. L. Hershberger, Farm, July 24, 1866.

Several days ago two communications appeared in your paper, giving an account of an experiment made by Prof. Hafer, with the compound known by the name of Nitro Chloro, both of which, permit me to say, were incorrect.

It was said the size tubing used was from one inch to one and three-fourths inch; also that after the explosion took place the ends of the tubing were found without the cork being removed. Having prepared the pipes myself and witnessed the whole operation when it occurred, the following statement can be relied upon:

In the experiment there were five pieces of glass tubing one and a half feet long and one, one and a half, two, two and a half and three inches in diameter, all of which were in the heaviest tubing. A cork was inserted in the one inch tubing, then placed in the one and a half inch, and those in the two inch, and so on until all were inclosed in the three inch pipe. Upon exploding the compound having been placed in the inner tubing, the whole five pieces were torn asunder, and so violent was the explosion that nothing was left but a few pieces of the largest pipes, the others being literally ground to atoms. The earth for forty feet in all directions showed the effect of this wonderful experiment. The fragments can be seen at the office of the Maple Shade Oil Company, Hyde and Egbert Farms. The above statement I make in Justice to Prof. Hafer.

Yours, &c., W. W. Bross.

THE SYRACUSE STANDARD.—The Syracuse Standard has changed hands, Summers & Co. assuming the proprietorship. It also appears in an enlarged form—an evidence of prosperity which we are glad to note. In a frank and able "leader" the Standard defines its political position. Its remarks are so appropriate to his words and paid his weekly benefits promptly. At length death came to his relief and the company immediately dispatched an agent to pay his family four thousand eight hundred dollars, the balance due on the policy. Every man, no matter what his occupation, should have an accident insurance policy. A small sum will procure, and the agent of the company will issue it in five minutes.

E. S. Fowler & Co., Fletcher's Block, Titusville, and Tenant & Co., at Petroleum Centre, are agents for the best Accident Insurance Companies.

THE FREE PASS SYSTEM.—The abolition of the free pass system is about to be practically inaugurated on our hauling thoroughfare, the Pennsylvania Railroad. President Thompson has issued the following card:

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD CO.,
PRESIDENT'S OFFICE,
PHILADELPHIA, July 23, 1866.

In conforming to the resolutions of the Rail-way Conventions, held in New York, May 22d and June 22d, 1866, the Company has determined to discontinue the use of its cars to discount a reduction of tolls; nor will local passes be given except for purely charitable purposes, unless the interests of the Company should demand their issue.

J. EDGAR THOMSON, President.

We fight for the Union party. This sentence is entirely explicit for our own satisfaction, and some of my friends and neighbors, who are members of the party, will constitute it, and when we adduce that which qualities we will try to answer as fully as our friends will allow.

As to who constitute the Union party, we can give no clearer explanation than that it is synonymous with what is, for the present, technically termed, the party of Lincoln. We have tried to prove that it is not a loose confederacy, but a real, well-organized party, and that some who have hitherto acted with the Union party, have left it.

Such have, at last, thrown off all disguise, have issued a call for a convention of their own, and have banded with traitors at the South and treason sympathizers at the North, for the destruction of the organization which separated the two parties. The Congressional party retains control of the legislatures, State and national, of nearly every loyal State government, of nineteen-twentieths of the Union press, and has the active sympathy and co-operation of nineteen-twentieths of the electors who voted for Lincoln and Johnson. It is therefore safe to assume that the Union party, in its present form, is not a real, regular, organized party, and that some who have hitherto acted with the Union party, have left it.

Our foreign reports are interesting to-day. I have made arrangements with the Philadelphia and New York papers to deposit their surplus cash in banks in this city, and to withdraw the same at a later date, when we will be in a position to do so.

The Mendville Republicans say: Our farmers are now engaged in cutting the wheat crop, which, contrary to expectations in the early part of the season, is a fair yield, and the grain is plumper and finer than usual.

REV. E. P. HAMMOND.—The Elmira Advertiser says: "This gentleman and his wife have been paying our city a short visit. He thinks of entering upon his long contemplated European tour in a few weeks."

The Methodist Camp Meeting to be held one and one-half miles north of Union, in McFarland's woods, will commence on Wednesday, the 26th of August.

BATHING.—The bath house of Messrs. Gaaskill & Mathews is again in full blast—hot, cold, swimming tub and all. A good soiree after the labor and perspiration of the day are over, rewards the evening as fresh as the morning.

H. L. Hershberger & Co. are now in the daily receipt of fresh vegetables of all kinds for the seasons, which they are selling at reasonable rates. Their store, opposite the Atlantic, on West Spring street, is a centre of attraction.

OUR CITY IS PUBLIC OR PRIVATE CEMETERY FOR THE BURIAL OF THE DEAD.

Another Fire at Petroleum Centre.

From Our Own Correspondent.

PETROLEUM CENTRE, July 25, 1866.

Again we chronicled another fire. When will the fire find us to visit us and create such trouble in our midst? The gas tank of the Maclay well, situated on lease 216, Central Petroleum farm, exploded this afternoon at two o'clock. Soon the large tank containing about two hundred barrels of oil was in flames—nearly a second impact—the burning oil was pouring down the ravine at a furious rate; hundreds of men congregated around the scene of disaster ready to render assistance. Mr. M. C. Martin, Agent of the Central Petroleum Company, and Edward Fox, Superintendent of the Company, stood near what they were made of. In the midst of the flames they were seen with pick and shovel making dikes to save the many large oil tanks below; others became inspired and went to the work with a will. Mr. G. R. T. Himes, with his men, rendered great assistance, and is entitled to much praise. Many men's hearts were on the spot, doing what ever they could have made it. It will stand as a monument to the heroism of the citizens of Titusville.

Subscribers who get this Paper by Mail will observe that the date on the address is always the day previous to their subscriber's name. Those wishing to renew, should renew at least one week prior to expiration of subscription.

Another Account of the Fire.

About two o'clock yesterday afternoon a dense column of smoke was seen to rise from the Wild Cat Territory on the Wash. McClintock Farm. A few minutes' ride brought us to the spot, when it was found to be a tank containing 200 barrels of oil, on lease 216, which was on fire. The most noticeable feature which first attracted our attention was the tank on lease 215, containing 1000 barrels of oil, the property of Arnold, Finney & Co. This tank was within ten feet of the immense volume of flame, and on the top were to be seen three men satiating it with water, which was poured up to them by gongs from the rear. The men were the celebrated McKee wells, to which Dennis Run owes much of its present reputation. These wells were struck last summer, and were both flowing wells, producing 350 and 200 barrels, but having been "plugged" at the fire which soon after swept the Run, they (like many of your correspondents) have ceased to yield their voluntary contributions, and now require the aid of the pump to develop their fluid. The "Shaw well," owned by the Shaw brothers, (one of whom is "Perry," mine host of the Shaw House,) a 100 barrel well, the "Highline," the "Hempfield," the "Briggs," the "Bluekey," and many other good wells are passed as we go up the Run. This company have had a two-inch pipe through which all the oil on their lands is conveyed to the River and railroad, thus saving to themselves and their leases about 25 tons on the barrel.

Next we come upon the lands of the New York and Allegheny Company who have some of the best territory upon the Run. This company had withdrawn from market every alternate lease on their land, thereby making their leases more valuable and preventing the wells from interfering with each other by reason of being located too near together. The Clark well No. 1, the Porter well, the Eureka, the Lincoln, 30 barrels; the Club House, 125 barrels; the Revenue, 125 barrels; the Hause, 100 barrels among the good wells on this company's tract. This company also have a pipe for conveying away their oil, and are sending tank trucks on the river for storing it. The stock of this company is very valuable and I see by the stock reports from New York is among the few high priced stocks sold on the board.

Passing the Steuben well, we come upon Blodget Run, a branch of Dennis Run coming in at this point. Here is located the "Hart well," 950 barrels; a short distance above this Dingley Run is the Dennis well of 75 barrels, and opposite the Club well Hamlin well No. 1 of 150 barrels.

No other wells have been tested on this Run, but all the bases of take-off derricks are sprung up and wells going down in all directions. Returns to the "Hart well" we proceed upon Dennis Run upon the tract of C. B. Payne & Co., upon whose land the last named wells are located. This tract consists of about 80 acres extending across both Dennis and Dingley Runs and embracing the last producing territory yet developed in this region. Here we also find the "A well," 200 barrels; the Hause well, 150 barrels; the Ellington, 200 barrels; and the Datto well, 150 barrels. It is but about six weeks since the first strike was made upon this tract and no small wells have been found upon it as yet.

I am informed that the "land interest" portion of the oil received by this company already amounts to from $90 to 700 barrels daily and still only eight wells have been tested out of a total forty already going down. Aljoining the Hart and Steuben wells lies the celebrated "Dingley" well upon which seven wells are being sunk. This is crowding wells thicker than in any other place in the "known world," still the unparalleled richness of the territory at this point is so well established that plenty of green horns can be found who willing to sink holes for oil with thirty or forty feet of each other and expect to become millionaires by so doing. I think the owner who receives $1,000 hours and reserves one-half of the oil for each oil well is getting the best of the bargain, as he says "I want to pump while the rest do," and with seven wells on this tract it would appear as though he means to have every facility for so doing. There are several other tracts upon which the genuine "honey-mustard sand" has been found in this vicinity, but I will leave these and a description of the state already sunk 170 feet deep till my next.

Before I let me say one word about the accident which took place at the Post Office, I will add that Dennis, and the Dingley Run, are the only two streams which have been tested out to date.

Great Fire at Roosevelt, Cherry Run.

We gave an account yesterday of the great fire on Cherry Run. We find the following particulars:

Twenty minutes after three, on Tuesday morning, the boiler of the engine on No. 43 Smith farm, Cherry Run, exploded killing the engineer, Augustus Rose, who was thrown about fifty feet and mortally wounded.

A cylinder was thrown through the engine house, the fire spread rapidly, and the walls of the house were soon on fire. The fire was put out by the fire department, and the engine house was saved by the efforts of the citizens of Roosevelt.
